Boy dies in London yeshiva fire

JEWISH CHRONICLE REPORTER

A 15-year-old student lost his life when fire destroyed the Mesifita Talmudical College in Cazenove Road, Stoke Newington, London, in the early hours of Tuesday. Another student was seriously injured when he jumped from the burning building.

The boy who died was Wolf Katz, of Stoke Newington, whom firemen found huddled in an upper-storey room of the college.

The student who jumped from a second-floor window was Judah Gottesman, of Clapton. He broke his leg and was unconscious when taken to Hackney Hospital in a police car. His condition was said yesterday to be improving.

It was shortly after 4 a.m. when shouts and cries for help from the students in the college were heard by neighbours in Cazenove Road.

NO INCENDIARISM AT YESHIVA

Jewish Chronicle Reporter

Fascists were not responsible for the fire which destroyed the Mesifita Talmudical College, Stamford Hill, last month, according to Scotland Yard.

Mr. David Weitzman, M.P. for Stoke Newington and Hackney North, told the JEWISH CHRONICLE that the Assistant Commissioner of the Yard had written to him that "there is no evidence that any form of pseudo-fascist or similar activity is present in the district."

Careful inquiries had revealed that there was no evidence of incendiarism in connection with the fire. Mr. Weitzman had been informed by a number of his constituents of rumours to this effect, and he had asked Scotland Yard to investigate.

A SHINING EXAMPLE OF A TISSUE OF LIES

Preamble

I apologise in advance to my readers, both of them, for repeating here what I have said many times before, but until Gerry Gable invents some new lies with which to poison the minds of the people of Britain, including of the Jews he claims to be protecting from the international Nazi conspiracy, I will continue to expose the old ones, and in exactly the same, methodical way.

A Shining Example Of A Tissue Of Lies

The March 17, 1995 issue of the Jewish Chronicle ran a full page spread on Searchlight magazine to celebrate [sic] its twentieth birthday. According to the introduction to this Shining example: "Helen Jacobus considers the progress of the battling anti-Fascist journal, Searchlight, as it celebrates its 20th birthday, and meets its indefatigable editor - building worker-turned-investigator, Gerry Gable".

It was Hitler himself who accused the Jews of being the master of the Big Lie. If instead he had said that the Jewish journalist is the master of the lie, and wilfully deceives both Gentile and Jew alike, no reasonable person could have accused him of making yet another anti-Semitic remark. What follows is a critique of the Helen Jacobus article, as related by the prince of lies, Gable himself.

The second paragraph reports that during a two year period from 1962-4, no less than thirty-four Jewish buildings were attacked by the 1960s synagogue arsonists. "A child died in one of the attacks."

I've lost count of the number of times I've exposed this lie in print. The facts are as follows. During the course of 1965 there were a number of arson attacks on synagogues in the Greater London area. (1) There were also, undoubtedly, a number of unconnected attacks on Jewish targets. In one incident, burning rags were pushed through the letter box of a Jewish taxi driver. Although this attack was carried out by the synagogue arsonists, and although, fortunately, no significant damage appears to have been done in this incident, it is debatable if this can be accurately described as an anti-Semitic attack, as it was clearly an act of revenge against one particular individual.

The background to this incident is rather interesting. Françoise Jordan, the wife of the British Nazi leader Colin Jordan, had a swastika pendant snatched from her neck by a Jewish taxi driver, who was later fined for the assault. The August 1994 issue of Searchlight carried on its front cover a photograph of Colin Jordan and his gang outside the court where the man was appearing; the caption on the following page claimed, falsely, that Colin Jordan had tried to have Maurice Ludmer, the late editor of Searchlight, indicted on a charge of criminal libel for publishing this photograph, which, Gable claimed, was taken in 1966.

The truth is that A) this photograph appeared - perhaps not for the first time - in the Feb. 24-March 2, 1965, issue of the glossy magazine Weekend in a feature on Colin Jordan called LITTLE HITLER. B) Mr Jordan tried to have Morris Ludmer indicted, not for publishing this photograph, but for claiming, falsely, that he had been one of the masterminds of the synagogue arsons campaign. (2) This claim was made in the pamphlet which really launched Searchlight, A Well-Oiled Nazi Machine, which was published in 1974, and again in the April 1975 issue of Searchlight itself. (3) Incidentally, the scurrilous pamphlet A Well-Oiled Nazi Machine was co-written by none other than Gerry Gable! (4)

Returning to the synagogue arsons, nobody died in any of these fires, child or adult. But, before the synagogue arson campaign started, there was another fire, an accidental fire, at the Mesifta Talmudical College, Cazenove Road, Stamford Hill, in the heart of London's Orthodox community. This fire claimed two victims: one was seriously injured, the other died.

A SHINING EXAMPLE OF A TISSUE OF LIES

The fatality was 15 year old trainee rabbi Wolf (or Woolf) Katz; the boy who survived, albeit with appalling injuries, was Robert (Judah) Gottesman. (5) The fire was reported in the Jewish Chronicle for November 13, 1964. There were rumours at the time that it may have been the work of anti-Semites/fascists, etc, but these were ruled out, and indeed, the authorities went to considerable lengths to quash these rumours. The December 25, 1964 issue of the Jewish Chronicle published a short article NO INCENDIARISM AT YESHIVA. Three days earlier, the local press published a slightly longer statement; an Assistant Commissioner at New Scotland Yard wrote to local MP David Weitzman thus: "Careful inquiries have been made into the suggestions of suspected incendiarism consequent upon an outbreak of fire at the above establishment. There is no evidence that any form of pseudo-fascist or similar activity is present in the district, or that this incident was perpetrated by any such local organisations." (6)

What Gable did later was tack this accidental fire onto his non-existent successful investigation. In the September 1984 issue of Searchlight he credited the former 43 Group and 62 Group thug Harry Bidney with bringing the arsonists to justice. Three years later he had become bolder and took the credit himself in his now notorious Jewish Chronicle interview of October 23, 1987. He told the paper that he had "stood in the burnt-out shell of that yeshiva at four in the morning and made a private vow to get the people who'd done that".

If Gable did stand in that yeshiva at four in the morning it must have been with a box of matches in his hand, because the alarm wasn't raised until after 4am! (7) Gable repeated his lies in the April 1993 and August 1994 issues of Searchlight, and his sidekick, the goy "Nazi-hunter" Graeme Atkinson, echoed them in a briefing paper he prepared for a so-called "anti-racist" conference. (8)

Another point is that although the actual arson campaign was despicable and cowardly, it was by no means entirely one-sided. In a personal communication dated 25th Oct. 1994, Mr Colin Jordan informed the current writer that "among the many attacks on our NSM premises there was an occasion when an attempt was made to set fire to it by pouring petrol through the front door and igniting it - however it was on a Saturday evening when people were in the premises who almost immediately became aware of the blaze and put it out."

Finally, neither Helen Jacobus and certainly not the Jewish Chronicle has any excuse for being conned by Gable over this piece of nonsense - if they were conned rather than willing accomplices to his fabrications. The current writer sent copies of the first edition of his synagogue arsons exposé to staffers Hadas Altwarg, Chaim Bermant and the Jewish Chronicle Library. The silence was deafening.

Back to the JC article, Gable is said to have been linked with the 62 Group. Actually he was a member. (9) Next we come onto the other fantasies about the original Searchlight Organisation. The Searchlight broadsheet is said first to have appeared in 1964; actually there was a grand total of four issues, thus:

No 1: Spring 1965.

No 2: undated.

No 3: Spring 1967.

No 4: undated.

It ceased publication in 1967 rather than 1968; the claim that Gable was its research editor is unsupported by any evidence bar the unsubstantiated assertions of a many times proven liar, Gable himself. He is mentioned nowhere in the official papers of the original organisation, (which was called the Searchlight Association), either as any sort of "intelligence organiser" or director. Copies of these documents may be obtained from Companies House.

A full set of Searchlight including the broadsheet, is held in the Wiener Library. In issue 4, it was announced that its first editor Reginald Freeson MP, who had received a government appointment, was being replaced by Joan Lestor, M.P. Page 7 announced that Freeson was resigning "with this issue". However, no further issues appeared; it is not at all clear if Lestor did in fact edit even this copy of the "magazine", the last issue.

The next claim in the JC article, that rather than publish an occasional broadsheet Gable decided to concentrate on building up an elaborate network of "volunteers" infiltrating Nazi "terrorist" organisations, is a gross distortion. And no one has ever been brought to trial on account of Searchlight's so-called intelligence gathering, and certainly not for any terrorist offences. (10) The reality is that Gable's "moles" working inside the far right incite the less intelligent members of such organisations to commit criminal acts in order to tar them all with the same brush, that of the stereotype of baby-eating Nazis propagated by the lying propaganda of certain Jewish mischief-makers and communist fellow travellers in Hollywood and other bastions of anti-Aryan racial hatred.

The claim that Searchlight named the leaders of the National Front and spelt out their convictions is true. But sauce for the goose, sauce for the gander, so here goes:

A SHINING EXAMPLE OF A TISSUE OF LIES

Gerry Gable: conviction for burglary artifice and theft, January 1964.

Graeme Atkinson: European editor of Searchlight, convicted for distributing anti-National Front leaflets in October 1974. (11)

Mike Luft: Ditto.

Richard David Roberts, former Searchlight mole and agent provocateur: convicted at Birmingham, March 1976, for conspiracy to assault the staff of an Indian restaurant; subsequently gaoled for assaulting National Front members.

Manny Carpel, Searchlight "researcher": gaoled at Lewes, Sussex, April 1981 for two and a half years for arson.

Ray Hill: gaoled for two and a half years at Birmingham Assizes, July 27, 1962, for wounding and grievous bodily harm on a police officer in the process of stealing cigarettes. Convicted December 8, 1968 of assault occasioning actual bodily harm on a press photographer. Convicted of assault on a Jewish café owner, July 1979. (12) Wanted in South Africa for credit card fraud and theft. (13)

What was that about the pot calling the kettle black? Back to the JC. Gable's alleged claim in this article that "We don't work for the police, we work with the police" is nonsense of the first order. It is true that in the past some police officers have indeed been duped by Gable and his fellow travellers, but it is not true that the police are as gullible and as dim-witted as Gable likes to make them out to be. It was the police, not the 62 Group, and certainly not him, who solved the 1965 arsons, for example. And the police have by and large ignored the masses of evidence Gable and his partners-in-slime have unearthed over all manner of mythical Nazi conspiracies, from the totally fictitious 1981 Notting Hill bomb plot to the current day adventures of the quasi-mythical Combat 18.

Far from being any sort of agent of law enforcement, official or otherwise, Gable and his fellow travellers in the anti-fascist (ie communist) movement, sail very close to the wind themselves when it comes to the criminal law. The violence directed by some of their number against the police at sundry public demonstrations needs no documenting here. Some groups, Anti-Fascist Action for example, openly incite violence, and advocate it in their magazine Fighting Talk. At the time of writing, two members of this group of organised thugs are on bail following a horrific and potentially fatal unprovoked attack on a West of England former National Front member in his own home. Gable's main role, apart from recruiting "moles" to incite violence and thereby demonising both fascism and white racial consciousness, is to prevent legal political "parties" and other organisations (such as the BNP) from holding any meetings at all, even on private property. Neither Gable himself nor the anti-fascist movement in general has any respect either for the criminal law or for the civil law, as the police and other authorities well know.

Returning to the JC article, Gable is said to have asked Jacobus. "If you find out a group is planning to lob hand grenades into a school hall, what are you going to do?" Jacobus calls this a rhetorical question, in reality it is a totally hypothetical question, because again, Gable's Nazi-hunting fantasies have never led to anyone being arrested for any such activity, which in any case has never happened in Britain outside of the context of Northern Ireland or Middle East related terrorism. The current writer was told by someone who knows Gable and who himself has genuine "links" with Special Branch that the SB don't want to know him. Independent researcher and conspiracy theorist Larry O'Hara, who has been libelled by Gable more times than I've had hot dinners, seems to think Gable is some sort of Kosher James Bond. The reality is that Gable, along with many other journalists, has been used here and there to peddle secret state disinformation and black propaganda. The fact that Gable is a (racial) Jew makes him a useful errand boy for such official disinformers, because if he is caught with his hand in the till - as he frequently is - his machinations can be blamed on the all-pervasive Jewish (or Zionist) conspiracy, and his detractors written off as lunatic anti-Semites. (14)

The Vice-President of AJEX is said to be an admirer of Searchlight, as is Mike Whine, the so-called defence director of an organisation which has the effrontery to call itself the Board of Deputies of British Jews. But this latter is hardly surprising, because Whine is almost as big a liar as Gable is. (15) However, not all Jews are either Machiavellian schemers, arch-liars or Gable's dupes: the Board's Raymond Kalman is said to have attributed an outbreak of vandalism in Jewish cemeteries in 1990 to hooligans and copycats, as undoubtedly it was. (16) Gable on the other hand blamed it on the international Nazi conspiracy. (17)

A SHINING EXAMPLE OF A TISSUE OF LIES

Next, Gable claims that his father volunteered for the RAF. What are the facts? Walter William Gable was born in London in December 1904. He served in the RAF as a Leading Aircraftman (No 1467918) from September 16, 1941 until March 6, 1946. Which means that the Second World War was two years in the waging before this super-patriot "volunteered" to defend his country against the wicked Nazis. If he hadn't volunteered he would almost certainly have been called up anyway. But although there is no reason to dispute Gable's claim that his father was an anti-fascist street fighter, ie a Jewish thug, there is a very good reason to believe that he didn't give a monkey's about defending Britain, or even, perish the thought, the Jews, from Hitler.

That reason is that Gable is obviously cast from the same mold as his dear old Dad, which means that Walter anti-fascist Gable was almost certainly a communist. (18) And the communists were every bit as opposed to the "Imperialist War" as were the British Fascists, and did their damndest to undermine the war effort, until Hitler showed his true colours and attacked their beloved Soviet Union. (19)

Gable's claim that at the 1991 invasion of the League of St. George's meeting at Kensington Library he stopped his goy fellow travellers from stamping on the Union Jack is another fantasy, or perhaps he's just winding up the gullible Jacobus. The reason he attempted to stop the violence was solely because he panicked when former Mosleyite Jeffrey Hamm was knocked to the ground. Hamm, who was in his mid-seventies and suffering from Parkinson's disease, died shortly afterwards. There is no evidence that this incident shortened his life, but it certainly wouldn't have lengthened it. And there is certainly no evidence that the Stürmer-like Gable is "pro-British" any more than the misnamed Jewish Chronicle is pro-British. (20)

The claim that Mrs Gable, the former Sonia Hochfelder, worked as a BNP infiltrator for several years is nonsense of the first order. Gable has been married three times, the first time at the age of 19 to Mariana Josephine Amon. This marriage was short lived, but his third marriage, to sweet Sonia, took place at Redbridge Register Office on November 17, 1984. (21)

As the British National Party was only founded in 1982, (22) this wouldn't have left much time for Sonia to infiltrate the organisation, if she had. In fact, she was never a member; she was a member of the National Front, and of the National Party, and of the League of St. George, but she was never a mole.

The well-known former Mosleyite Keith Thompson says that he first met Sonia around 1977: "...she'd been in some lunatic Maoist organisation at Imperial College, where Brady was. She went into the NF, made donations to the National Front, worked very well, worked very hard, seemed in every way genuine. Obviously we never really trusted her but it seemed unlikely to me that she was a spy because she looked so much like a spy; she was a walking caricature of a Jew really." (23)

Yes, the man did say she was a Jew. In reality she was only "half a Jew". (24) "I said to Sonia Hochfelder: 'Are you a Jew?' She said: 'My father used to be.' Those were her exact words. Her mother was a Gentile, her father used to be a Jew. They lived within 200 yards of me at one point." (25)

Thompson told me that at one point Sonia had been engaged to Malcolm Smith, a member of the National Front Directorate. I contacted Smith and he said that although he and Sonia had been very friendly, they had not actually been engaged; he was shocked to learn that she was now married to Gable. Another person who had been very friendly with sweet Sonia is Steve Brady, who has been the victim of Gable's vituperation on more than one occasion. However, he too was more than a little chivalrous about his - undoubtedly - former lover. Others on the far right have been less so. (26)

Proof positive that Sonia was no sort of mole is the correspondence which appeared in League Review, the theoretical journal of the so-called international Nazi liaison umbrella organisation the League of St. George. Sonia contributed to this journal, and made no secret of either her Jewishness or her passionate Zionism. So much so that in the August 1978 issue, C. Horner complained thus: "Dear Sir, I am heartily sick and tired of Jew S. Hochfelder's ceaseless efforts to force this troublesome tribe of self chosen people down our throats...Must their infiltration, whining and take-over be put up with even in the last bastions of white-racial circles?"

Sweet Sonia was also featured in an early issue of Searchlight; (27) no way was she any sort of mole! There is no evidence even that she knew Gable at this point in time, in truth, she was just a crazy mixed-up Jewish girl. And frankly, there is no shortage of those. (28)

The claim that Gable took over the editorship of Searchlight on the death of Maurice Ludmer is not quite true either; Ludmer died in May 1981 and was succeeded by Veronica (or V'ron) Ware, who later went to live in the States. Also, in May 1985, Gable told the magazine Media Week that Searchlight was edited by "an 'established journalist' who does the job on a voluntary basis." He declined to name him. (29) The claim that Gable suffered a heart attack is totally implausible since he obviously hasn't got one.

The claim that a letter bomb was sent to Gable's home is dubious, I'm not suggesting that he sent it himself, but apart from a disgruntled member of Combat 18 or the BNP, there is no end of possible suspects. One of the "anti-fascists" he has smeared; the MP and former MP whose careers he tried to destroy; the Black Separatists his magazine referred to as worms; almost any member of the anti-Zionist left. Brian Gentleman, the gullible civil servant he tried to set up as a Czech spy; Sun journalist Garry Bushell who sued him for libel; and not a few more. Incidentally, this alleged bomb was delivered to Gable about the same time that a real bomb was delivered to the British National Party's HQ, where it exploded and slightly injured BNP member Alf Waite. Whatever the truth about Gable's bomb, he should worry less about explosives coming through his letter box than about libel writs.

Finally, it is worth noting that at the 1992 trial in connection with the fracas in Kensington Library, Gable's barrister claimed that his client had twice paid Keith Thompson, then of the League of St. George, three figure sums for supplying him with information on the extreme right. (30) While there is no question that Gable lied to attempt to discredit a major prosecution witness, there is no reason to doubt that Gable does regularly pay Nazis and his various moles, and almost certainly for information on criminal acts which they themselves incite. You might like to consider that before you renew your subscription to this so-called anti-fascist journal. You might also like to phone the Jewish Chronicle and ask them why they give not just unwarranted credibility but any space at all to this hate-filled little shit-stirrer. Does anything go in the struggle against eternal anti-Semitism? Including giving anti-Semites a real case against the Jews?

(2) The driving force behind it was in fact Mrs Jordan. Later she fled to her native France but returned in 1967 and the following January was gaoled for 18 months for her part in inciting the fires.

(3) This allegation appears first to have been made in print in a pamphlet co-written by a Searchlight Organisation agent provocateur in 1973, although at the time of the arson trials, Gable's hatemongering co-racialists in the 62 Group tried to frame Colin Jordan by bribing witnesses.

(4) If Mr Jordan had issued an ordinary libel writ, Ludmer wouldn't have had a leg to stand on, but criminal libel is a different matter, prosecutions are few and far between. The magistrate dismissed the application, but he did say that the words used were prima facie libellous, as indeed they were, he also branded Searchlight scurrilous and disreputable, as indeed it is. Gable's "informants" said they were co-ordinated by the BM, the BNP, and German and Dutch fascist groups and the Ku Klux Klan. Again, this is pure fantasy.

Communists are pouring out propaganda that the war is being waged in the interest of capitalist Imperialists, and their paid agents are active among munition workers and even the armed forces." This money was meant to have gone to Thompson, who denied all knowledge of it. Thompson also said that Flynn was a raving anti-Semite. One can only wonder how much money Gable has passed onto anti-Semites and kooks over the years, money which obviously comes in large part from his Jewish supporters. Also, there remains a distinct possibility that he paid the stunningly attractive Flynn for services totally unrelated to the heroic struggle against fascism.
